

TESTIMONIALS

"Sometimes even an editor needs an editor. As a professional editor and writer, I only trust my major freelance projects to a select few and Tamryn has been at the top of my list for years. She is a flawless and astute proofreader, but, in my opinion, her greatest strength lies in her creative insight and her ability to get your project from point "a" to point "b" in a timely and effective manner. She is a truly gifted editor and a dependable pro that I'd recommend to anyone."

"I very much enjoyed the time I spent working with Tamryn. I assisted in training her and she made my job very easy! What she didn't already know, she learned very quickly. I could tell right away that Tamryn was destined for bigger and better things and she was. I certainly hated to see her leave for a better position, but was happy that she was able to take on a better opportunity. I am glad to have stayed in touch with Tamryn and to see her be able to use her many talents as her career has progressed."

"Conducting international business from Scandinavia, a solid command of the English language is required. Swedish is my first language and Finnish is my second. Despite the seven years I lived in the United States, I feel more comfortable presenting English-language documents to clients and to prospective clients only after they have been edited by Word Nerd Editorial. Tamryn Spruill is an exceptional editor and a solid professional who masterfully transforms my projects into effective marketing tools."
